

Older Youth – Describe an Event Icebreaker

This ice breaker is designed to both help the youth get to know each other, and to help them learn a little bit more about the 4-H program, by teaching each other.

Have the youth pass the beach ball around, have them state their name, and then state the number that their right thumb is pointing to. The person with the master list then gives the corresponding event, and the youth describes it. If they are not able to answer on their own, have other youth describe it in order to provide optimal learning.

Beach balls are available for checkout from the 4-H Extension office

Cloverbud Beach Ball Icebreaker

This ice breaker is designed to both help the Cloverbuds get to know each other, and to help them learn a little bit more about the 4-H program.

Have the youth pass the beach ball around, have them state their name, and then answer whatever question their right thumb is pointing to. If they are unsure of an answer, help them out so that all of the youth may learn about that particular topic.

Beach balls are available for checkout from the 4-H Extension office.
